

The Macomb County Sheriff's Office said two people have been charged in connection with a major theft ring responsible for stealing dozens of cars in Metro Detroit.

Terence Lamar Bailey and LeAnn Williams have been charged with the theft of 26 vehicles from Eastpointe, Warren, and St. Clair Shores, according to Macomb County Sheriff Mark Hackel. Both are in the Macomb County Jail.

Altogether, Macomb Auto Theft Squad (MATS) investigators, working with General Motors Global Security, have identified about 50 GM vehicles stolen from Eastpointe, Warren, St. Clair Shores, Harper Woods, Redford, and Detroit that are linked to the theft ring.

MATS investigators have also identified and recovered Chrysler vehicles that had been stolen from the Metro Detroit area under similar fraudulent circumstances.

Investigators suspect that most of the stolen vehicles are being sold to unsuspecting buyers.

Detroit Eric Keiser, the lead MATS investigator, has also linked Bailey to twelve GM vehicles stolen in Detroit in the same manner.
